

Read to a grown up.	Read a non-fiction book.	Read a book that makes you laugh.	Read a spooky book.
Read in the dark with a torch.	Try and complete the online Sefton Summer Reading Challenge.	Read in bed.	Read a book your parent's read as a child.
Read to a favourite toy in a homemade den.	Read in the bath.	Read in the garden.	Read on a journey.

Look at our reading challenge.

Books are great to read alone or share. They allow us to learn so much about the world around us as well as helping us develop our imagination as we enter a world of make believe. But don't forget words are everywhere – look at signs, posters and leaflets as you travel around.

Read, relax and enjoy
